

Welcome! To Dads, Mothers and Alumni

HENRY TO HEAD IOWA WESLEYAN

Simpson Alumnus Is President of Sister College

The bonds uniting the two Methodist colleges in the Iowa-Des Moines conference were strengthened when the board of trustees of Iowa Wesleyan selected Dr. Harry D. Henry, pastor of the First Methodist church at Iowa City, as the new president of that institution. He took over his new task on August 1 and is getting off to a splendid start.

Dr. Henry was a member of the class of 1916 but lacked a few credits of graduating that year. He went from Simpson to Garret Biblical institute, completing his work there and received his degree from Simpson college in 1922.

Honored by Alma Mater

In 1933, Mr. Henry was given the honorary degree of doctor of divinity by his alma mater in recognition of his outstanding success as pastor and working with young people. Before coming to Iowa City he held several prominent pastorates in Michigan, among them Hillsdale and Grand Rapids.

Dr. Henry is a fluent and pleasing speaker, popular with members of the younger generation and should make a splendid executive officer for Iowa Wesleyan for the current year and improvement in their whole general situation. Simpson alumni and friends of Dr. Henry will wish him every success in this new relationship.

"Budd" Fisher Enters Business Field

Harold L. Fisher, coach in the Boone schools for the past six years, has resigned his position and opened a shoe store in that city. Harold graduated from Simpson college in 1926 and was a prominent member of the Simpson athletic squad during his student days. He then coached at Clear Lake for a time before coming to Boone. Fisher's teams at Boone have been constant contenders for title honors both in basketball and football.

Proudfoots Observe Fiftieth Anniversary

On Friday evening, May 10, Senator and Mrs. A. V. Proudfoot with their children, Mrs. Charity M. Hillis of Indianola and Edwin V. Proudfoot of Des Moines, and their families celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding.

The ritual ceremony was performed in the old Methodist church which stood at the northeast corner of the square and was the first wedding performed in that edifice. The date was May 10, 1885.

Senator Proudfoot is president of the board of trustees of Simpson college and has been an active leader in the Methodist church, both local and at large, for many years. Mrs. Proudfoot was a student of the Simpson conservatory and a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Plank From Blue Bird Bench Found at College

A heavy cottonwood plank which used to form the seat for a bench in Simpson's Old Blue Bird seminary, has been located by Lester Shore, college janitor, nearly doomed to oblivion in the furnace room of the college heating plant.

The plank has been identified by Dave Hamilton—though it is the worse for ignoble uses during the past decades. He noted the holes bored for dowels forming the back, and the holes in the bottom where legs used to be. The Rev. Dr. William Christie Smith, the oldest person living who ever sat on that bench, said he could almost see where he sat.

Plans are being made to restore the plank and make an historic bench for the reception room. One split end of its nine foot length may be cut off and the rest refinished.

The bench was in the Old Blue Bird from its erection in 1861 until the seminary was blown down in 1871. Then it was removed to the chapel.

Judge Henderson Retires From Active Practice

When Judge J. H. Henderson retired from the office of commerce counsel for the state of Iowa, July 1, 1935, he had completed 24 years in that capacity, with the exception of nine months in 1927-28. Judge Henderson was 88 years old on Sept. 16.

Simpson Trustee 66 Years

Another of the Judge's records is that he has been on the Simpson college board of trustees since 1869, when he also became secretary to the board. He served as secretary for 50 years, then the job was turned over to his son, Frank P. Henderson, who has been secretary since 1919. Between them they have signed every Simpson college diploma since the practice of signature by the secretary of the board was started somewhere in the 1880's. The Judge missed one meeting of the board during the years he was secretary.

Started in 1870

The Judge started practice of law with admittance to the bar in 1870. He and W. H. Berry were partners from 1873 to 1886, when the Judge "went on the bench" in the circuit, later called the district court. He served until 1896, then when Berry was elected to the senate, returned to practice with the partnership renewed. In 1901 he entered partnership with his son, Frank P. Henderson, continuing until appointment as commerce counsel in 1911.

SOCIAL GROUPS PLEDGE SIXTY-EIGHT

At the close of rushing week on September 21, the fraternities and sororities announced 67 new pledges, most of them from the freshman class. The list of pledges is as follows:

HOME COMING PLANS SET BY STUDENT COMMITTEE. STUDENTS AND FACULTY JOIN IN HEARTY WELCOME FOR RETURNING GRADS

HILLMAN OPENS 17TH YEAR AS SIMPSON HEAD

Now Dean of Iowa College Presidents

For the seventeenth time President John L. Hillman set in motion the activities of Simpson college on Sept. 6. He began his service in 1919 and has occupied his position for a longer period than any other college head in the state.

President Hillman has directed the destinies of Simpson college through the post-war depression, the boom period of the late twenties and the difficult recent years. During that time the endowment has been increased to one million dollars, the college cleared of heavy debt and the beautiful new administration building completed and occupied.

Outstanding Services

Two of the outstanding results of the leadership are seen in the increase of the endowment to one million dollars, which was done in the campaign beginning in 1923. When that had been completed Dr. Hillman secured recognition by the American Association of Colleges and Universities which placed Simpson on the accredited list. Shortly following that the American Association of University Women opened its rolls to graduate alumnae. Recognition by these two great bodies together with membership in the North Central association means that the Simpson students are acceptable in any American university or college for advanced standing.

Throughout the years Dr. Hillman has been prominent in the work of the Methodist church, has been several times delegate to the General Conference and is at the present time a member of the commission making the plans for the 1936 session of that great administrative body.

Ray Baird Transferred

Lt.-Col. Raymond C. Baird, graduate of Simpson in the class of 1907, who has been on duty at the University of California in Los Angeles, has been transferred to Fort Francis Warren at Cheyenne, Wyo. Prior to his California assignment Colonel Baird was stationed at Omaha.

Students of the years preceding Ray's graduation will recall that he was an outstanding member of the Simpson baseball team, leader in campus Y. M. C. A. work and prominent in all phases of college life.

He entered the regular army shortly after his graduation from college, becoming second lieutenant in 1908. During the World War Colonel Baird was given the temporary commission of lieutenant colonel, receiving his permanent appointment to that rank in 1933.

Willard Olsen, '28 is located at Ketchikan, Alaska, where he is planning to make his permanent home.

Chief Attractions Will Be Game With Cornell and Get-Together Dinner

Some of the Bulletin readers will wonder why homecoming is set at so late a date this year. There are no secrets in the situation and nothing to conceal. The Simpson football team plays away from home on the Saturday of State Teachers association in Des Moines so that could not be it. The two games preceding the date selected are both played away from home. Then too, everyone felt that the game with Cornell will be a particularly attractive combination so the weight of the balance swung to November 16 and the game with our old rivals of Cornell. Since this will probably bring Judd Dean, assistant to Coach Barker of the Mt. Vernon team, back to the campus, that seems especially interesting.

Parents Invited

Dads and mothers are being invited to share the fun, the thrills and the feast with their children and the returning alumni.

Homecoming events will open with a play given under the sponsorship of Alpha Psi Omega Friday night. The play selected is "Go Ahead," a roaring farce comedy which will give the Simpson players a chance to show their ability in that field. It is the story of two Yiddish fathers whose efforts to bring about the marriage between their children results in some extremely amusing situations.

Floats and Decorations

If the weather is favorable, the social organization on the campus will decorate their houses and enter comic floats in the parade to precede the football game. If the weatherman should hand us such a day as 1934 proved to be, the decorations will be left in their wrappers until a more favorable season. Both parade and decorations will be on a competitive basis.

The game should prove interesting. The Cornell team gives every promise of being a strong contender this year and will give the "Redmen" a battle royal. They have already demonstrated their quality and the Simpson coach and players will be on tiptoe to make the best possible showing.

74 BACHELOR DEGREES AWARDED

At the regular commencement in June and the special convocation at the close of summer school, 74 bachelor degrees were awarded to Simpson graduates. They included 48 bachelor of arts, 12 bachelor of science in business administration, five bachelor of science in home economics, two bachelor of science in education, and seven bachelor of music. In addition 32 were awarded diplomas from the various special two year courses. Four honorary degrees were also granted: doctor of laws to John W. Langdale, book editor of the Methodist church, and Fred C. Smith of Harvard university; and doctor of divinity to M. O. Beebe, chaplain in the United States army, and Carl C. Clarke of Somerville, Mass., making a total of 78 degrees and thirty-two diplomas.

One of the most interesting features was the presence of 12 second and third generation students in the 1934 class. They were Christine Smith, daughter of Fred C. Smith and granddaughter of William Christie Smith, Simpson's oldest living alumnus; Josephine Bean of Boone, Milton Beebe of Chicago, Jean Carlson of Madrid, Tom Clarke of Somerville, Mass., Arthur Luther of Hastings, Iowa, Eugene Melson of Jefferson, Elizabeth Throckmorton of Des Moines, and Harriet Harlan, John Horsley, Keith Jenner, Ernestine Perry and Edna June Shenton of Indianola.

Dr. Langdale and Dr. Smith gave the baccalaureate sermon and the commencement address, with many complimentary remarks as to their effectiveness. (Continued on page 2)

Myrna Collette Hunter was born on September 1, 1935, to Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Hunter of Hollywood, Ill.

Arthur Allan Willis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Willis of Jersey City, N. J. He was born on June 6, 1935. Mrs. Willis will be remembered as Jessie Swain.

Lewis Franklin Archer was born on July 15, 1935. He is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. O. Franklin Archer of Salt Lake City, U.

Harvard Ray Book was born on May 4, 1935, to Mr. and Mrs. Don Book now of Scranton. Mrs. Book was formerly Dorothy Young.

Duane Carroll Hess was born February 5, 1935, to Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hess of Des Moines. Mrs. Hess will be remembered as Helen Fryer.

Peter Carlton was born last summer to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Carlton of Albany, N. Y. Mrs. Carlton was formerly Marie Barger.

Shirley Blancheborn Bowers, born February 11, 1935, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Park Bowers of Ottumwa. Mrs. Bowers was Miss Beulah Willett.

A son arrived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Thompson on February 21, 1935. Mrs. Thompson was formerly Norma Olson.

The Rev. and Mrs. Stuart Peterson of Van Meter are the parents of a 9½ pound boy born in May, 1935.

Mrs. Bess Smith Pryor Honored

Mrs. J. C. Pryor, formerly Bess Smith, Simpson graduate of the class of 1908, has recently been appointed a member of the state library commission by Gov. Clyde L. Herring. She will serve for five years.

During their stay in Burlington Mrs. Pryor has been prominent in social life of the city and club work, particularly in the parent-teachers organization.

In addition to her other activities, Mrs. Pryor has given considerable attention to democratic organization work, speaking both before public gatherings and over the air. Mrs. Pryor's mother, Mrs. O. E. Smith, still resides in Indianola.

Miss Nina Mitchell, assistant in the Simpson department of education, was asked by Miss Agnes Samuelson, to act as head of the professional and membership committee of the department of kindergarten and primary teachers for the National Education Association.

Miss Ruth Beeler, 1928, has given up her teaching position in Newton to enter the Prince School of Store Education in Boston. Her work will take her into many of the down town stores of that interesting city.

Arthur E. Guest, '23, is located at 321 South Madison street, LaGrange, Ill. He is employed in the research department of the Pepsodent Co. of Chicago.

Harriett Neades Assist. To College Treasurer

Miss Harriett Neades of the class of 1935 has taken the place of Miss Frances Kuhn as assistant to Rae L. Dean, business manager and treasurer of the college. Miss Neades graduated from the Indianola high school with a fine record there and through all four years of her college course. She was president of the Y. W. C. A. and also of the Women's Athletic association, an outstanding debator, and a member of Pi Kappa Delta. She was chosen as one of the representative women of the class of 1935.

Trabert Will Head Knoxville Schools

M. Andrew Trabert, for several years principal of the Knoxville high school, has been elected superintendent of the Knoxville schools. Trabert is a graduate of Simpson college in the class of 1920. He has also taken graduate work at Ames and the University of Iowa, and ranks high in his chosen field of work.

Chester Cooper, class of 1929, is now pastor of the Methodist church in West Springfield, Mass. He was married on June 11, 1935, but the alumni office has not the name of the new parsonage mistress.

Boyd Osborn, class of 1912, brought his son James back to Indianola this fall to enroll as a freshman. Both Boyd and Mrs. Osborn are alumni. James' father will be recalled as one of the outstanding track men of his day at Simpson.

John Schultz, superintendent of schools at Fontanelle, completed the work for a master's degree at Iowa State university this summer. John finished at Simpson with the class of 1924 and has been at Fontanelle for three years.

Evelyn Schmidt of Logan, who received her music degree from Simpson in 1933, will teach fifth grade and grade school music at Modale this year.

Theta Upsilon sorority has a new house mother this year. She is Mrs. Della Huntley of Griswold, mother of Pauline and Dorothy. Pauline is teaching at Treynor this year and Dorothy has gone to Ottumwa.

Dr. F. B. Taylor, long connected with Jamestown college at Jamestown, N. D., as dean, has resigned his position and is now living with his daughter at Oshkosh, Wisc. He was a member of the class of 1876 and gave up his teaching position on account of failing health.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrett F. MacFadon, formerly of Downers Grove, Ill., have moved to Abilene, Texas, where Mr. MacFadon has been transferred by the company with which he is connected. Mrs. MacFadon will be recalled as Rose Tennant. The MacFadons graduated from Simpson in the classes of 1921 and 1922.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wiggins of Arcadia was the scene of a Simpson gathering a few months ago. Present were a number of past and present Simpsonites, Miss Lois Poitevin of Dow City, Roland Crandall of Dow City and Bob Dean of Ames, student at Simpson, Miss Louise Finch and Aubrey Thompson, the latter also a student. James Wiggins, son of "Gene" as he was called back in his own student days, was also home from the campus for the occasion.

Walter and Margaret Dotts Telfer of Berkeley, Mass., came to Iowa for their summer vacation. Walter is studying at the Harvard University Divinity school and preaching in the First Congregational church at Berkeley.

Forrest D. Kellogg, after completing his work at Garrett Biblical Institute in Evanston, Ill., has been assigned to the church at Kellogg. He and Mrs. Kellogg came to Iowa in June to take the post made vacant by the death of the former pastor.

Alvira Lunsford, '30, will teach physical education in the public school at Ames this coming year. She has been a successful teacher at Emmetsburg prior to the Ames situation.

Mrs. Ava Hathaway Wallace of Cedar Rapids came down to Indianola this fall bringing her daughter, Jean, to enroll at Simpson. Mrs. Wallace was a student at Simpson in the years between 1908 and 1912.

Harland P. Guest, 1926, has been working for the Maltex Co. of Burlington, Vt., with headquarters at Ames.

Miss Esther Stearns of the class of 1932 is commencing her third year as supervisor of music at Winterset. During her summer vacation she traveled extensively throughout the United States and Canada, driving in all about 10,000 miles, and visited both the eastern and western coasts. She participated in the Simpson reunion on Iowa day at Long Beach.

LINNS AT HOME ON FURLOUGH

Dr. and Mrs. Hugh H. Linn are spending a portion of their furlough in America, part of the time being given over to special study of pharmacy at the University of Iowa.

One of the outstanding services rendered by Dr. Linn to the missionaries of India has been the development of a series of medicinal tablets containing the treatments commonly in use in India put up in this form not only for convenience but in order to protect them from the climatic conditions of India.

Their son, Herman, also a graduate of Simpson, is a medical student in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Woods of Buffalo, N. Y., visited with friends and relatives in Iowa this summer. Mr. Woods is a member of the firm of Kenefick, Cooke, Mitchell, Bass and Letchworth of Buffalo. Mrs. Woods will be recalled as Irma Brasher.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ramay of Atlanta, Ga., came back to Iowa this summer in connection with a visit to their son in Kansas City.

Alice Story Takes New Position

Miss Alice B. Story, member of the Simpson class of 1905, has accepted a position as librarian at Fort Dodge, transferring there from the city of Marshalltown, where she has held a similar position for a number of years. She has worked in the libraries at Des Moines, Virginia, Minn., Huron, S. D. and Lead, S. D., in addition to these Iowa appointments.

Miss Elizabeth Bentley, former member of the Simpson faculty and head of the English department at Tarkio college last year, visited with Indianola friends during the summer months.

Vinton Watson, agent for the Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Des Moines, was given a free trip to Banff, Can., this summer by the company in recognition of his success as salesman.

Pauline Chittenden and Doris Tracy are teaching at Gibson this year. Pauline finished her work at the conservatory in 1932 and Doris completed the normal training course in 1932.

Mrs. W. C. McIntire has sold the studio in Indianola, "Macs" to L. H. Launspach of Des Moines. The name will be retained by the new owner and Mrs. McIntire will continue to reside in Indianola.

Miss Lulu Shields, class of 1919, has been appointed social service worker for Buena Vista county with headquarters at Storm Lake. She has had experience both as teacher and worker in this field in other parts of the state.

Merrill Brown, who spent part of last year in the state college at College Station, Texas, has returned to continue his work for a master's degree. He is assistant in the science department.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Warthen and their daughters, Mary and Martha, of Chicago, Ill., spent their vacation this summer in Colorado. They stopped over in Indianola to renew acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Story of Toledo, Ohio, came back to Iowa for their summer vacation. Joe graduated in business with the class of 1930 and is associated with the Jewel Tea Co.

Walter Hooker of Clarinda, brought his daughter, Sarah Jean, to Indianola this fall to begin her junior year at Simpson. Walter is in the insurance business in Clarinda. He graduated from Simpson in the class of 1912.

Prof. and Mrs. Harry Kunze of Milwaukee, Wisc., visited at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Moats this summer. Dr. Kunze formerly was head of the department of business administration at Simpson. He is now in the extension department of the University of Wisconsin.

Burl Shoemaker, '34, and his father have erected a fine new filling station on highway No. 65 in Indianola and Burl may now be found there caring for his customers.

Dr. and Mrs. Ray Wycoff of Lexington, Neb., represented Simpson at the inauguration of Dr. Creighton as president of Hastings college last May.

We have a request from Elizabeth Goodman to change her address from Council Bluffs to 700 Fullerton avenue, Chicago. She does not tell us what she is doing there.

Wallace Lindsay has been transferred by the Shell Petroleum company from their offices at Houston, Texas, to Iowa, Louisiana, nearer their fields of production.

ness for the occasion.

Alumni Luncheon

The alumni luncheon brought together one of the largest crowds for several years. Mr. O. Beebe inducted the new class into their new relationship as alumni of Simpson. Dr. Elmer E. Kelley was the only representative of the class of 1885. He also spoke briefly. The new officers of the Alumni association are Don Berry of Indianola, president; Lawrence Athey of Des Moines, vice president; Helen Lundy of Indianola, secretary; William Buxton III of Indianola, treasurer, and William A. Burke of Shenandoah, alumni trustee.

A large number of alumni were registered at the various fraternity and sorority houses. Lack of space prevents listing them in the Bulletin.

Griff Johnson Resigns Insurance Post

Griff W. Johnson of the class of 1882, for twenty-five years officially connected with the Equitable Life Insurance Co. of Iowa, has resigned his post but will continue as a member of the board of trustees. For a number of years he headed the firm's investment department, making a national reputation for himself in the field of farm investments.

After his graduation from Simpson he spent several years in a Des Moines abstract office studying law, and was admitted to the bar in 1887. He then became associated with the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Milwaukee, Wis., coming from that position to the Equitable in 1911.

Miss Mildred Baker, class of 1934, received a degree in dietetics from Michael Reese hospital, Chicago, this summer and will be employed during the coming year at Monmouth Memorial hospital, Long Branch, N. J. She is located only two blocks from the Atlantic coast and near New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Tallman of Topeka, Kans., now have the dignity of being grandparents. Mrs. Tallman will be recalled as Nan White, of the class of 1909. Bruce is boy's work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Kansas.

Miss Kathryn Judkins, instructor of music in the Waterloo public schools, spent the summer in Chicago, working in the personnel department of Marshall Field & Co.

Simpsonians Gather For Picnic In Burma

Note comes from Clarence Riggs telling of a meeting on April 30, 1935, in Kalaw, one of the loveliest spots in the Federated Shan States of Upper Burma of four Simpson students, himself, Mrs. Riggs who was formerly Blanche Spurgeon, Miss Kate Nicholas and Miss Maurine Cavett. They represent the classes of '03, '06, '14, and '24. Mr. Riggs said they met under the murmuring pine trees instead of the "whispering maples," sang the "Red and Gold" and exchanged news of mutual friends among the alumni and reminisced of college days.

The table decorations and menu even flaunted the Red and Gold. Luscious tomatoes, ruby-red beets, with golden papaya, yellow raspberries, and amber and gold orchids resting on a red centerpiece, all suggested the colors of Simpson. The group send their greetings and love to their alma mater and their alumni friends.

Miss Myra Schmidt, who graduated from Simpson in the class of 1935, has the distinction of being listed in the "Who's Who" of American colleges published by the University of Alabama. She is teaching at Maurice this year. Her major was speech and she was active in both forensics and dramatics during her three years at Simpson.

Lois Lypmus, class of 1934, is now acting librarian at Indianola. She takes the place of Miss Mary McCoy, who will spend the year in special library training.

Raymond Maine, class of '33, is now secretary to the warden of the state penitentiary at Anamosa, Iowa. Mr. Maine spent some time in California before returning to his native state. He had the pleasure while in the west of interviewing Mrs. Gertrude Atherton, famous novelist.

WICK SHARP HEADS MISSION SCHOOL

On Friday, October 11, Wick Sharp was a chapel visitor and told the Simpson folks about his task as president of Pfeiffer Junior college, located at Misenheimer, N. C. Mr. Sharp graduated from Simpson in 1923. He taught in Kansas until 1933 when he was called to the presidency of this school, which was then almost entirely limited to high school work. Under Sharp's leadership the school has been reorganized so that it covers the last two years of high school and two years junior college program. The total enrollment at the present time is 170. The school is under the sponsorship of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church.

New Buildings Given

Through the generosity of Mrs. Pfeiffer of New York City, five new buildings were erected during the summer of 1935. They include the president's home, two girls' dormitories, a boys' dormitory and a building housing the dining room, home economics department, laundry and central heating plant. These buildings are of modern construction, wholly or at least semi fireproof, with every modern convenience in the equipment. The dormitories have large fireplaces, splendid facilities for social gatherings, and are newly furnished throughout.

School Operates Farm

The school now owns a farm of 250 acres with a herd of twenty pedigreed Holstein cows and flock of 600 Leghorn chickens. The work is done by the students and the products of the farm are used by the college dining room.

Mr. Sharp said that the total cost per student a year is $165, which includes board, books, supplies and all fees. Many of the students in their section of the state, who are anxious to attend college, are without funds and President Sharp reported that for every student who pays the full charge, another could be cared for by the school. This is made possible through the support of the missionary society. The school is located on a fine, paved highway between Albemarle and Salisbury, N. C. President Sharp extends an invitation to any Simpson folks to stop off and see their plant.

Judge and Mrs. J. A. Storey Sr., who have spent the summer at the home of their son, J. A. Storey Jr. of Indianola, have moved to Des Moines. Their address will be 1120 Polk Blvd.

Mrs. Roy Bair, Mae Butler of the class of 1927, is teaching in the Jamaica public schools this year. Her husband, who took some advanced work in Simpson last year, is continuing his work in the field of biology at Iowa State college.

Ronald Gordon has spent several weeks in Tennessee directing choirs in revival meetings. He graduated from the Simpson conservatory in the class of 1931.

Loyalty Fund is yours, support it.

ACADEMY ALUMNI HOLD REUNION

On July 14, one hundred former students of the Simpson academy from many different sections of the country met on the Simpson campus for their annual reunion. Letters were received from other former students from various parts of the country.

The committee in charge of this reunion were Miss Grace Beam, Miss Elva May and Mrs. Doris Lamb Bott of Indianola.

We note that Ellsworth Young of the class of 1928, has been made head of the requisition department of the research library of New York City with a large staff of employees under his direction. Mrs. Young, who was Marjorie Bishop, is also employed at secretarial work in connection with the library. Mrs. Young's brother, Willard Bishop of Newton, is a freshman in Simpson this year.

Lora Hagler Writes Bible Sketches

Miss Lora Hagler, class of 1903, former member of the Simpson Academy faculty and teacher of English and Bible for many years in the Shenandoah schools, has "gone to press." As a result of her study and teaching of Bible subjects she has written fourteen playlets dealing with Biblical characters and incidents and has used them both in class room work and in public presentations.

34 to 0. Oh Me! Oh My!

The report just comes in of the Simpson-Kirkville Teachers football game Friday night, October 11. It was a case of too much Teacher and not enough Redmen. The Simpson team was outweighted and also outplayed. But since their opponents have lost only one game in more than two years, we should not feel too badly.

Coach and players will set themselves now for the conference race. Here's hoping.

S. R. E. Allotment

The government allotment for Student Relief Employment to Simpson college for the current year is on the basis of 55 students. The amount granted to each of these is $15 a month. With the exception of four, all of these students are employed in various ways on the campus. They are readers, research workers, clerical assistants, etc. No student can be employed under this arrangement to supplant any student formerly employed by the college. They must be used in new places entirely. Four of the Simpson group are assigned to work in the Indianola city library where they are kept busy checking files, repairing books and assisting in other activities.

Students Teach Government Classes

Several Simpson students are employed as teachers in various forms of education sponsored by the government under the N. Y. A. and F. E. R. A. Ira Allen and Mervin Nolte are teaching in Camp Allerton, the Indianola CCC camp. Allen is teaching social subjects and Nolte has charge of the band.

Requests have come for other students to teach in the adult education projects in Warren county. Special subjects to which students will be assigned are commercial lines, shorthand, typing and business law, also music, vocal, piano and violin, and music appreciation.

The Warren county director is Miss Jessie Jenks, graduate of Simpson in 1928. Classes are to be held in various towns in the county wherever there is a call for this type of instruction.

Beautifying Campus

Under the new government regulations student help may be used to beautify the campus. Some of the SRE assignments for the current year are being made in that direction, clearing out quack grass, cutting down dead trees. Several of the old maples are dying, probably as a result of last year's drought and must be taken out. A good many hours will be put in during the year in improving the appearance of the Simpson campus.

The Rev. Edward Wolfe is now pastor at Pioneer church, Walla Walla, Washington, after completing a period of service as district superintendent.

Ruth Greenwalt, class of 1935, has taken the place of Mrs. Hendrickson as head clerk in the Warren county auditor's office and is staying at home.

Show your loyalty to Simpson. Send in your gifts now.

Simpson Professors Are Honored

Dr. Charles N. Burrows was chosen president of the Iowa Association of Economists and Sociologists and Dr. Francis I. Moats at the same time was elected as head of the Iowa Political Science association at the Iowa meetings held in Iowa City on May 10 and 11. Miss Katharine Renich of the Simpson faculty was selected as secretary-treasurer of the political science group.

Dr. W. E. Payne appeared on the program of the sociology group with a paper on "The Sociological Nature of Economics." It is an unusual occurrence for high offices in both associations to be given representatives of the same school. Dr. Burrows has served as vice president of the association for the past year and has been prominent in its activities for several years, while Dr. Moats and Miss Renich have been very active in their fields.

Paul Riley and Mrs. Riley (Paula Postel) are now located in Kirksville, Mo. Mr. Riley resigned from his teaching position in Kingsville, Texas, to enter the undertaking business with his father in Kirksville.

Mrs. Charity Hillis was chosen as president of the Indianola Music club for the current year. Other Simpson alumnae who hold offices in the club are Miss Bertha Legge and Miss Dorothy Peterson.

Professor L. E. Spring, head of the Simpson conservatory voice department, sang the part of the Pirate King in "The Pirates of Penzance" at the Kendall theatre in Des Moines last spring. The presentation was given two evenings. Professor Spring gave a good account of himself and added to his laurels in this appearance.

1935 ENROLLMENT SHOWS INCREASE

The final figure on the enrollment for the first semester of the current year shows a total enrollment of 486. The senior class is the smallest in a number of years, numbering just over fifty. The junior class about seventy-five, sophomores one hundred and thirty-five, and freshmen slightly over two hundred. The final check of classifications in the registrar's office has not yet been completed.

Of the freshmen sixty-two were honor students in high school, that is, either in the first ten per cent of their graduating class or members of national honor societies. This is thirty per cent of the total freshman enrollment. Last year the honor students made up twenty-five per cent of the freshman class.

Twenty-two states outside of Iowa, from Massachusetts to California, are represented in this enrollment, the number of students from the other states totalling thirty-three. In addition six students are registered from foreign countries, two from India, one each from Hawaii, Egypt, China and Burma.

Half of Iowa Counties Represented

Fifty of the counties in Iowa are represented by students on the campus. The largest number from any county outside of Warren is Polk with 33; then comes Dallas with 21, Pottawattamie and Wayne with 16 each and Union and Madison with 15 each. In the outside territory Des Moines shows the largest number of students from any one city with 24; then comes Cornish with 12, while Creston's representatives number 7.

The enrollment is an increase over 1934 and is very satisfactory when account is taken of the extremely difficult conditions under which most of the people living in the territory served by Simpson college have lived during the past two years.

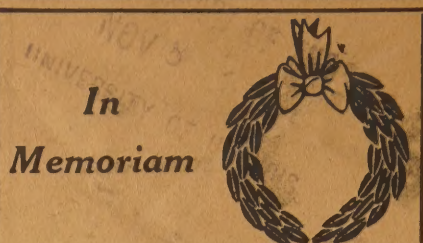

Hosea Hantz, former baseball star of Simpson college, and his wife visited friends in Indianola recently. Hantz will be remembered as one of the men who caught Ray Baird's curves in the early nineteen hundreds. Mr. Hantz is director of federal housing in Wyoming and still is a great baseball fan. He attended the world series in Chicago this year.

Miss Amy Hammers, A. B., 1916, was elected county superintendent of schools of Mills county last fall and is now making her headquarters at Glenwood. Her advanced work was taken at Iowa State Teachers college, Minnesota State Normal college and the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Vera Horn, former member of the faculty at Simpson in the sociology department, is principal of the Ankeny schools for the current year.

Christine James, Hildreth Morrett and Bernard Perkins are all members of the teaching staff of the Corydon public schools this year.

James Reed, class of 1934, will teach and coach at Strahan this year.

In Memoriam

Glen Stire—Died in the Iowa Methodist hospital, Des Moines, on July 17, 1935, from a heart attack. He attended Simpson in 1907, 1908 and 1909. Later conducted a clothing business in Indianola, and then in Texas was store manager. At the time of his death he was employed in the rug department at Younker Bros. Mrs. Stire and two children survive. Mrs. Stire was formerly Blanche Smith.

Mrs. W. L. Cooper—Her death occurred on September 7 at Long Beach, Calif. Burial was at Indianola. Mrs. Cooper was formerly Miss Ella Buxton, sister of William Buxton Jr. of Indianola.

Jesse Eno—On July 14, at the home of his daughter in Seattle, Wash., occurred the death of Jesse Eno. He was a former student in the business department of Simpson college and for many years court reporter. The family left Indianola last January in the hope that change of climate would benefit Mr. Eno's health.

Burt Kennedy—Word comes to the alumni office of the death of Burt Kennedy, Simpson, 1904, in South America. Mr. Kennedy has been in the employ of Swift & Co. for many years and had been general manager of all their South American interests for several months. Burt was an outstanding football figure in his day and did some coaching before going with the packing company.

Jessie Vinall Mitchell—Mrs. Mitchell died at Whittier, Calif., on July 8, 1935. She graduated from Simpson in 1918 and taught for some time before her marriage to D. R. Mitchell.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fisher Robinson—She was the wife of Bishop John Wesley Robinson and had been associated with her husband in missionary work in India since 1892. Her death was due to a heart ailment.

Lieut. Wendell G. Holliday—On Sunday, May 19, 1935, on a flight to Shreveport, La., Lieut. Wendell G. Holliday and his mechanic were both killed in a crash near Heavener, Okla. The flying conditions were bad and as nearly as could be determined they had attempted to mount a range of mountains and crashed in the heavy forest on the side. Death must have been instantaneous. The plane and bodies were not found until the Thursday following. Funeral services in Indianola were of semi-military character. Wendell graduated from Simpson in the class of 1931. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Holliday of Indianola.

Mrs. William Fogler—At the Methodist hospital in Des Moines, Mrs. Fogler and her infant baby died on April 26, 1935. She graduated from Simpson in the class of 1923 and was married in August, 1924. Her husband and two children survive.

Mildred Hedges—The student body at Simpson was shocked by the fatality which took Miss Mildred Hedges of Scranton from their number on Monday, May 6. She had started down from the third floor of the chapel at the close of a class period, when she tripped and fell over the banister to the main floor, striking on a table. She never recovered consciousness and died in the Methodist hospital in Des Moines that same day.

Frank Chenoweth Humphrey—On March 28, 1935, at a hospital in Houston, Texas, occurred the death of Frank Humphrey, former Simpson student and athlete. He had worked in the Houston post office for several years and had been active in church circles. For a year preceding his death he had been working in a Mexican mission church.

Mrs. A. M. Wilkin—She was a former student of Simpson college and will be recalled as Emma J. Silcott. Her death occurred at Fort Collins, Colo., on November 25, 1934.

Ruth Maxwell's Poems In Book

Two poems by Mrs. Ruth Maxwell of Indianola are published in the volume published by the Galleon Press under the title "American Lyric Poetry, 1935." The poems by Mrs. Maxwell are, "Autumn" and "Four White Birch Trees." The book presents poems by 425 writers.

The Slocums, Mr. and Mrs. John Slocum of Indianola, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Slocum of Clarinda, and Glenn Slocum of Washington, D. C. spent a vacation period at Grand Lake Lodge, Colorado. Jack was working on his master's degree at the University of Nebraska, and Glenn has been employed at government work in Denver.

EVERYBODY COME!

HOMECOMING PLANS

homecoming dinner will be served in the gymnasium. The cost will be fifty cents and we are hoping that a large number of alumni will not only come back for Homecoming but join in the festivities of that occasion. Dinner will be in charge of W. A. A. girls. It will be good.

The Simpson band, which is giving promise of being an unusually fine group this year, has agreed to prepare a splendid concert for the period following the dinner. There will be plenty of time and opportunity for you to meet your college friends around the tables following the concert.

A committee of students and representatives of the faculty are working hard to make homecoming a real success. The student body and faculty members invite you to come back home for this occasion and share in the fun and the enthusiasm, see a good football game, and do your bit to make it a real homecoming.

Miss Bernice Borgman

Miss Borgman Heads Home Economics Dept.

Miss Bernice Borgman of Sioux Center succeeds Mrs. Alice Hansell Brown in the Simpson college home economics department for the year 1935. Miss Borgman received her Master of Science degree from Iowa State college in 1935. She also holds her bachelor's degree from the same school with a major in economical journalism.

She is a member of Omicron Nu, honorary home economics society, of Phi Kappa Phi, national honor society, and Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism society. In 1934 she received the Sigma Delta Chi scholarship award. Her teaching experience covers four years.

Esther Jean Harlan, Simpson conservatory 1930, has accepted a position in the public schools of Des Moines for the present year and will teach music. Last year Esther Jean taught in the Indianola schools. She spent the summer in California taking special training.

J. Worth Miller will head the music in the Stuart school for the present year. For two years he has been in the Perry school but resigned there to accept the new position.

Rev. Christie Smith Gives Old Texts

A set of first text books used in Simpson college was presented to the college by the Rev. Dr. William Christie Smith, the oldest living alumnus. He was graduated in 1871, having entered Simpson five years before.

In the list are Paley's Evidences of Christianity; Loomis' Geometry, Trigonometry, Analytical Geometry and Calculus and Mathematical Astronomy; Harkness' Latin Grammar; Hadley's Greek Grammar; Wayland's Moral Science (book over 100 years old); two volumes of Upham's Mental Philosophy (95 years old); Butler's Analogy; Whately's Logic, and Dana's Geology.

DR. HOWARD NOBLE DEPARTMENT DEAN

Dr. Howard Noble, who has been a professor in the business department at the University of California at Los Angeles, has been made dean of a newly created college of commerce which will be installed in the university next year. Dr. Noble will complete the organization this year to have the department ready by next fall. He is an alumnus of Simpson, class of 1914, and also has a degree from the Harvard university department of business administration.

Champion Twins Are Daughters of Alumna

Sharon Kay and Shirley May Callies, named health champions at the Iowa State fair twin contest of 1935, are daughters of Mrs. Fay Rolfsema Callies of Titonka, Iowa. Mrs. Callies had never lived on a farm until she married and began domestic life on a chicken ranch which she and her husband operate at Titonka. Mrs. Callies graduated from Simpson college in the class of 1929 and taught in the Titonka public schools where she met her husband.

The daughters are a year old and look so much alike that even their parents have difficulty in distinguishing between them. Mrs. Callies gives a large part of the credit for their health to their normal country life.

Dr. William Christie Smith of Indianola, Simpson's oldest living alumnus, broke into Ripley's “Believe It or Not” column not long ago. The incident was that of walking a tight rope without using a balance pole at the age of eighty. (The editor might have been inclined to question if he had not seen the incident himself.) Ask Christie to tell you some time how he learned to do the trick.

Frank Henderson, '99, secretary of the board of trustees of Simpson, spent some time in the Iowa Methodist hospital this summer on account of an operation for appendicitis.

Dr. Byron I. Mueller, who attended Simpson in 1927 and 1928, later completing his medical course at the State University of Iowa, has begun the practice of medicine in his home town, St. Charles. He is associated with Dr. Ivan Sayre.

Christie Swain Is Appointed Assistant Editor of the Daily Christian Advocate

The appointment of Christie Swain, former editor of the Simpsonian, to the position of assistant editor of the Daily Christian Advocate, official newspaper of the General Conference of the Methodist church, was confirmed recently by the commission on entertainment of the conference.

The Daily Advocate is the only newspaper which gives a complete account of all business transacted at a church conference. Its size varies from sixteen to forty pages, depending on the length of the session for the day. It carries no advertising. The Advocate is placed every morning on the desk of each of the 650 delegates, and serves as an official report of the preceding day's session, and as a guide to the order of the day.

In his capacity as assistant editor, Swain will be present on the platform of each session of the conference, which is held in Columbus, Ohio, during May, 1936. He will also serve in a measure as “contact man,” being in a position to meet the leading church officials of the entire nation.

Paul Hillman, son of Dr. John L. Hillman, is editor of the Daily Advocate,

DAFT AT HEAD OF RESEARCH DEPT.

Floyd Daft, who graduated from Simpson in the class of 1921, is now connected with the University of Rochester in New York. He heads the research department in the pathological department of that school. His chief of staff is Dr. Whipple who was awarded the Nobel prize for original findings in pernicious anaemia.

After leaving Simpson he entered Yale university, receiving his Ph.D. degree there. He then studied in the University of Denmark and taught three years in Harvard university before becoming associated with the University of Rochester. Dr. Daft visited with Professor Doty of Simpson on his way back east this summer.

Simpson Graduates Assigned to India

The Rev. and Mrs. James McEldowney left America on August 15 for Hyderabad, India, where Mr. McEldowney will have charge of the English-speaking Methodist church. Both are graduates of Simpson college, James in the class of 1928 and Mrs. McEldowney in 1930. They have been living in the east where Mr. McEldowney completed his work at Boston University School of Theology. Mrs. McEldowney will be remembered as Ruth Calkins.

Hi Weld, one of Simpson's most popular students during the past four years and an outstanding track star as well as active debator, is now a student at Boston School of Theology. A rather unusual coincidence is that he is living in the same room occupied by President Hillman in the days when he was a student at Boston. Hi says he likes his work and the surroundings at Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Ned Perry, who have been living in Fort Collins, Colo., for the past five years, have returned to Indianola where they expect to make their home permanently.

Miss Ella R. Mitchell, Simpson '16, is teaching in the public schools of Long Beach, Calif. A letter brought her contribution to the Alumni Loyalty fund and greetings to the friends of Simpson. She says she prefers California earthquakes to Iowa cyclones.

having been appointed to that position during the Atlantic City conference four years ago.

Swain was editor of the Simpsonian during the year 1934-1935, and graduated from Simpson last spring. He is pastor of the Methodist church at Sheldahl.

Sylvan Kramer, who spent several months in Chicago following his graduation in 1934, will serve as principal of the junior high school at Zeoring this coming year.

Robert Wood of Spring Hill, who joined the American navy in December of 1934, has been assigned to pharmacy school. He entered the latter in February. While on the campus Bob was a member of the Commons club and active in Blackfriars.

James Miller is now at Harlan, Iowa, employed by the Gamble Stores Co.

Miss Annabelle Wilson, former member of the faculty at Simpson, has accepted a position at Northland college, Ashland, Wis., as teacher of foreign languages.

TEACHERS LISTEN TO VOCATION TALK

A special state meeting of the Vocational Guidance association was held Saturday noon preceding commencement at the home of Mrs. Nina Brown, with Dr. Fred Smith, vocational guidance teacher at Harvard university, in charge.

Twenty junior high, senior high and college conference teachers and personnel teachers mostly from out-of-town met and discussed case problems, books, success and failures and exchanged opinions with Dr. Smith. Dr. Smith is editor of the National Vocational Guidance magazine.

H. M. Byram, president of the State Vocational association, of Ames, and Charles Pye of Des Moines, secretary of the Iowa State Teachers association, and teachers from Waterloo, Mississippi, Des Moines and two local teachers, Miss Nina Mitchell and Walter Townsend, were present at the meeting.

Simpson Professor Writes Stories

Dr. Harold F. Watson, head of the English department at Simpson college, is the author of an article published in the May issue of the English Journal entitled “Henry Hawkshaw, Ph. D.” The story is in the nature of a satire and is one of many contributions which Professor Watson has made to both general and professional journals during his time at Simpson.

Miss Mildred Edwards, head of the children's department in the Elizabeth, N. J., library, spent the summer vacation with her parents in Indianola.

Miss Margianne Coyle

Miss Coyle To Be College Nurse

Miss Margianne Coyle of Humboldt, a graduate of the Iowa Methodist hospital in 1935, has been selected as college nurse at Simpson for the present year. Miss Coyle enrolls as a sophomore at Simpson and plans to complete her college work in addition to her official duties as student nurse.

Harvey Smith, Simpson '34, had charge of the Lake Concert band at Arnolds Park this summer. This organization is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of the city and contained some splendid musicians. Harvey will teach music in the Arnolds Park schools again this year.

Miss Bertha M. Tyler, for several years superintendent of the Orient schools, was appointed to the staff of Pfandler Smith College at Little Rock, Ark. She is working in the teacher training department.

Reappointed for his seventh consecutive term as clerk of the supreme court of Iowa was the distinction to come to B. W. Garrett of Des Moines. He was a student at Simpson and held his first public position as secretary to Albert B. Cummins, then governor of Iowa.

Harlan and Lawton Edit Student Publications

Glen Harlan of Stuart and Alfred Lawton of Valley Junction were chosen as editor for the Simpsonian for the current year and for the 1937 Zenith. The business managers for the two publications are Robert Samson of Indianola and Richard Williams of Corning.

The Zenith goes back into the hands of the junior class after two years of independent publication. Alumni who are interested in these two student publications will find them well taken care of by the present management.

VERNON SHEFFIELD ON ARTIST PROGRAM

Delights Capacity Audience with Technique and Interpretation

Returning to the Simpson campus after several years, Vernon Sheffield, who graduated from the Simpson conservatory in 1926, gave the first number on the Simpson Artist-Lecture course for 1935-36 and delighted the audience with his skill and artistry. The date of his appearance was Wednesday evening, Oct. 9.

After leaving Simpson, having completed the work for a bachelor of arts degree also in 1926, Sheffield spent three years at Midland college, Fremont, Nebr. He then went to DePauw university as head of the piano department for four years. Later he travelled and studied abroad for several months.

Since returning to America Mr. Sheffield has been appearing as concert pianist and is now on his way east for a series of such programs. The Indianola program not only delighted the audience but gave opportunity for the display of skill, technique and delicacy of interpretation as well as strength and fire. As an encore, Mr. Sheffield played some of his own variations on familiar airs.

The program was as follows:

Program

Sonata Appassionata .....	Beethoven
Allegro assai
Andante con moto
Allegro ma non troppo
Mazurka (B-flat minor) .....	Chopin
Nocturne (F major) .....	Chopin

HARRIET HENDERS TO SING OPERA IN PRAGUE

Miss Harriet Henderson, Simpson alumna and well known to European audiences where she has been singing for the past six years, will have regular work as lyric prima donna in the State opera at Prague the coming year.

The thing in addition to her musical ability which helped Miss Henderson to secure this fine recognition, was her ability to fit into the national setting of the state opera. Arriving too late to share in the rehearsals Miss Henderson entered on her work with this company without any chance to "warm up" to use the baseball language. Of her appearance one of the critics wrote, "Miss Henders had no easy task as Jarvillia Rovotna, who presents that role in Vienna, is a favorite of the public. But the guest singer gave the performance a new personal charm, due to her youth and beauty as well as her voice and art of rendition, in short to her personality."

"But what decided Miss Hender's success more than anything else was her ability to join with the Vienna ensemble as one of them, not as a stranger."

Miss Jeanette Luther of Henderson, Iowa, Simpson conservatory junior, took part in the 4-H club program at Ames last summer. She appeared as soloist one afternoon and also under-studied Mrs. J. E. Mullane for the part of Arlene in the "Bohemian Girl."

Miss Maurine Rogers, class of 1934, received her master's degree from the Iowa State university this summer and has returned to Iowa City to continue her studies toward the doctor's degree. Her field is psychology.

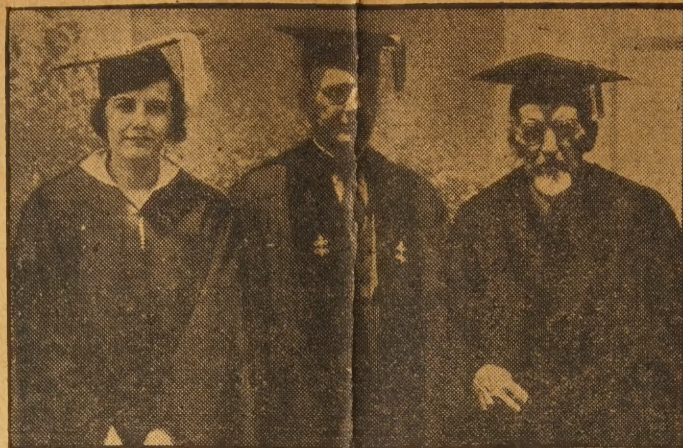

Dr. Joseph Fellows, A. B. Simpson, 1926, is assistant to Dr. B. G. Budge at Ames. After leaving Simpson, Mr. Fellows took his degree in medicine at Iowa State university and his internship in Detroit.

Dr. John Davis Is Transferred

Dr. John Davis, who is connected with the medical department of the United States navy, has been transferred to Los Angeles, Calif., where he has been assigned to the cruiser Omaha. Dr. and Mrs. Davis, with their daughter Ruth and son Robert have been living in Indianola for the past five years. He has been medical officer at the navy recruiting office in Des Moines.

Oakland, Iowa, schools employ three Simpson graduates. They are Wilbur Felt, coach; Leonore Turner, English and music; and Imogene Graham, third grade. They were all reelected at the spring session of the board.

3 GENERATIONS

SIMPSON GRADS TAKE ADVANCED DEGREES

During recent months four Simpson graduates have received advanced degrees from Iowa State college at Ames. Howard Smith of the class of 1917 received his doctor's degree and will teach chemistry next year in the state college of New Mexico. He has been assistant in the chemistry department at Ames for a number of years.

Hilda McMillan of the class of 1931 received her master's degree in home management. She is teaching at New Market.

Leslie Weetman of Nodaway was given his doctor's degree in plan morphology.

Charles Pentiss Wells of Taylor received his doctor's degree in applied mathematics. He is teaching in the North Dakota State college.

Simpson Music Grads Move Up

Several graduates from the Simpson conservatory have landed in better jobs this year, at least they are teaching in larger towns. Some of them have gone into the public school field from other lines of teaching.

Vilas Hemphill, who finished in 1932 and taught at Story City last year, has gone to a position in the Clarinda schools. His place at Story City has been taken by Mamie Lyons, who has been teaching at Pleasantville.

Mary Ashby has returned from St. Louis, Mo., where she taught last year, and will have charge of the music in the New Virginia schools this year.

Miss Beatrice Phelps, who taught at Colfax last year after some years in the Dallas Center system, has accepted a position in the Creston schools.

Byron Hopper has moved to Charleston, Ill., a city of several thousand inhabitants, where he will have charge of bands and glee clubs as well as private instruction. Last year Byron was at the Washington township consolidated school near Minburn.

Leola Ellis Is Given National Recognition

At the national convention of the Theta Upsilon sorority, held at Pocono Summit, Pa., this summer, Miss Leola Ellis, member of the Simpson conservatory staff and Simpson alumna, was elected national vice president for the coming year. She has filled the position of national chaplain for the past two years.

California Alumni Hold Get-Together Picnic In Bixby Park At Long Beach

We are glad to present the story of the Simpson reunion held in connection with the Iowa gathering at Bixby park, Long Beach, Calif., on August 10, 1935. We are going to let Beulah Peck, secretary of the Simpson club in southern California, tell the story in her own words.

"Nell Vale Core wrote me that you were wanting a list of those who were at the Simpson reunion in August. Charles D. Todhunter of Ukiah, Calif., came 700 miles to attend. He came the longest way, and he and T. G. Aten, class of 1885, were from the oldest classes represented. He read of the meeting in the Indianola Tribune, I believe.

"Gaylord Davis, doctor in the United States navy, now located in San Diego, with the fleet, also doctor to the admiral, came up from San Diego to attend. He had rather recently returned from Alaska where he had been sent by the government to inspect conditions in the government colony settled there last spring. He told many very interesting incidents of his time there.

"Mrs. Kate Murphy Whealen and Mrs. Cooper also were in Simpson during the early years, and Mrs. John

BANYARD BUSY AT FAYETTE

Word comes from Frank Banyard, teaching at Fayette, Mo., that he would secure his master's degree from the University of Missouri this summer. He has had busy times with his school work also. On May 5 his chorus and soloists gave "The Bohemian Girl" over station KFRU at Columbia, Mo.

Since going to Central college, Fayette, Professor Banyard has presented three operas, "Chimes of Normandy," "Pirates of Penzance," and "Bohemian Girl." This year they plan to do "Car-men."

The summer of 1934 was spent in England gathering material for his thesis on "Handel's Influence on English Music."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Banyard send their best wishes to Simpson and Simpsonites.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

Little Symphony

Because of the wealth of material available this year Dean Harvey hopes to have a fine little symphony orchestra in addition to the regular conservatory group.

String Quartet

The string quartet has already begun practice with the same personnel as last year: Marian Fox, Perry, first violin; Betty Burke, Shenandoah second violin; Mary Louise Hillis, Indianola, viola; and Marian Smith, Indianola, violoncello. This group is much in demand for program work throughout the year.

Male Quartet

Professor Spring is organizing a male quartet which is a welcome announcement, since there has not been such a group in the conservatory for the past two years.

Madrigal Choir

This group is already being organized under the direction of Professor Spring and should make a fine record for the current year.

Messiah

The conservatory plans to present the oratorio, "The Messiah," again preceding the Christmas vacation and rehearsals of the entire student body will begin about November 1.

Miss Arlene Kitching, who took her first two years of college work at Simpson, later continuing at Iowa State university, has gone to Ganado, Arizona, to accept a position as x-ray technician and laboratory expert in the Presbyterian hospital there.

Morley in the conservatory in the early 90's. Mrs. Frank Perry and Mr. Igo, Dr. Agatha Igo Vickery's father, were there also.

"Following the reunion and registration about fifty gathered for a picnic supper 'under the whispering palms and eucalyptus trees.' The president of the Simpson club, Nell Vale Core, presided, and introduced the following, who gave short talks: Mrs. Nicholson, John Kitselman, C. B. Little, John Barker, Harry Hopper, Dr. Fletcher Homan, Everett Olive, Roy Worth, T. G. Aten and Charles Todhunter.

"We hope to have another get-together some time this winter and I will send you a little account of it.

"Do excuse my errors in typing. I use the hunt and peck system, long hunting and much pecking, in the wrong places.

"My sister, Demia, and I had a very delightful, but all too short, visit with Mable McKee (a classmate of ours at Simpson) and her mother, Mrs. John McKee of Carlisle. They were on a trip through the west."

(We commend the California plan for Simpson reunions and wish there were space enough to print the long list of former Simpson people who attended.

PROFESSOR EMSLIE STILL CARRIES ON

For twenty-eight years, since leaving the Simpson conservatory in 1907, Professor Alexander Emslie has been director of the Conservatory of Music at Colorado State college, Ft. Collins, Colo. In that time he has built the enrollment up to an average of 150 or more. His old friends and pupils will chuckle over the following comments on Professor and Mrs. Emslie taken from the columns of the Ft. Collins Express-Courier.

"While vocal director in Simpson conservatory he met and married Gertrude Kephart in 1904. Mr. Emslie likes to read fiction and spend his spare time caring for his lawn and flowers. Likes to eat fish if others do the catching, likes strawberries and ice cream, but eats only two meals a day. He smokes cigars, not during teaching hours—woe be to the student who smokes. His wife's hobby is cats. She has a black and white angora called "Devil's Hoof" after an opera character. Delta Omicron, national music sorority, is her other hobby."

Tri Delt Alumnae Honor Mrs. Wallace

On the occasion of her recent visit to Iowa and Indianola, Mrs. Henry A. Wallace, an alumnus of the Simpson chapter of Delta Delta Delta sorority, was entertained by alumni at tea at the chapter house in Indianola. Representatives of all the other Simpson sororities were invited to participate in this recognition.

Mrs. Wallace's early home was in Indianola and part of her college work was taken at Simpson.

RUST COLLEGE GROUP SINGS AT SIMPSON CHAPEL

Sarah Steele, Director of Travelling Troupe from Southern College

Early in the college year, a sextette, four men and two women representing Rust college at Holly Springs, Miss., sang at Simpson college. They had appeared at the Methodist church the night before and met with hearty approval at both programs.

One of the reasons why the college students were so much interested is the fact that Sarah Steele, Simpson 1935, a graduate of the conservatory, was in charge of the troupe. After her graduation, Sarah went to Holly Springs to take up work as instructor in music for the summer school. She was called back to Iowa by the death of her mother but returned to Mississippi at the opening of the college year. She was put in charge of this group which is travelling and singing in many northern churches and schools. Part of the money they receive from free will offerings goes directly to the school and the rest they use for expenses.

Rust college is one of the thirteen colleges and professional schools for colored students under the direction of the Methodist church. The whole program of work in these schools is supervised by another Simpson alumnus, Dr. Merrill J. Holmes.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. S. Anderson, formerly of Des Moines, have moved with their family to Danbury. Mrs. Anderson will be remembered as Hope Seibolt.

Don Anderson, former Simpson student, is director and tenor with the University Light Opera Singers. This company is presenting skits from light operas and solos and special musical numbers.

The Rev. and Mrs. Clyde H. Connor (Mrs. Connor was Pearl Catron) write from Weiser, Idaho, to send in their contribution to the Loyalty fund and say "hello" to old Simpson friends, especially those of the class of 1922. Cloyd is pastor of the Congregational church at Weiser.

Picken Transfers To Milwaukee

R. F. Picken, class of 1931, has been elected a member of the faculty of the vocational high school in Milwaukee, Wis. He will teach social sciences. The school is one of the largest in the city with an enrollment of 18,000 students and a faculty of 500. Last year Mr. Picken taught at Mendon, Ill. After his graduation from Simpson Mr. Picken took his master's degree at Northwestern university and also did some post graduate work at the State University of Iowa.

Mrs. Picken will be remembered as Doris Engelking, member of the Simpson faculty in speech and dramatics.

SIMPSON COLLEGE BULLETIN

Entered at post office at Indianola, Iowa as second class matter.

A publication issued by Simpson College, in the interest of Simpson College, and for the furtherance of a forward movement which is being participated in by every Methodist organization throughout the Des Moines conference, the alumni, the college authorities, and friends of the institution wherever they may reside.

If you change your name or address notify the alumni secretary's office at once. One of the problems is to keep the card index up to date. People are constantly moving from place to place, and if they will drop this office a note with their new address, it will save a lot of work, and expense in postage.

"If"

There is any delay in this copy of the Bulletin reaching you, it may be due to the fact that the Alumni office does not have your correct present address. Better send it in.

YOU CAN HELP!

The time is here when the alumni of Simpson college must face frankly the needs of their Alma Mater. With the depression and the drouth it has been increasingly difficult to keep Simpson's income up to her needs. For the past two years the faculty has received but little over half their scheduled salary. They have not complained but it has been hard to keep up the association memberships, buy the new books, and keep abreast of the scholastic advances. That situation is improved slightly for this year but is still far from normal.

The number of requests for assistance on the part of students has been overwhelming. The Student Aid committee has acted carefully and tried to grant aid only to those who needed it. But that group has been very large.

Students Are Doing Their Part

The students are meeting the situation bravely and doing all sorts of things that help to make it possible for them to stay in school. Light housekeeping, work at anything which comes along, self denial in many of the things which would add to the interest and benefits of college life, all are faced and met with a smile and inspiring courage. They do their part.

Now, the question we are asking you alumni who can help is this, "Will you do something to help?" Two of our alumni, husband and wife, started with $25, then $50, given to help students stay in school. This year they have made it $60. Another eastern alumnus is splitting $100 between two boys, one a sophomore and the other a freshman. Gifts of five or ten dollars and on up to your limit can be applied in this way, to aid particular students if you wish.

Then too, there is the general budget of the Alumni association and the college which must be cared for. If you prefer, or do not specify this personal sort of aid, we will credit your gift to these general funds. But your help is needed, very much needed, in fact, and we are asking you to do your best.

Schreiber Makes Sunday Magazines

The Sunday magazine of the Des Moines Register is running a series of articles by Newton Schreiber on prehistoric mammal life. Newton who graduated with the class of '35, made the drawings for Dr. Fillman's children's book of geology and from that work conceived the idea of this series of stories. Each one carries a drawing by Schreiber of the animal described in the story.

Mrs. Douglas Malin of Glendale, Calif., Simpson graduate in 1916, has written a number of compositions, both words and music, which are attracting attention in the west. She also has written a number of songs for the Pi Beta Phi sorority which are used nationally. Mrs. Malin and her two sons visited in Indianola this summer at the home of her aunt, Mrs. F. S. Burberry.

The Simpson college band is making a good start this year under the direction of Milton Trexel, junior conservatory student. Miss Marian Smith, formerly of Council Bluffs, has brought to the campus a large amount of band music which is now available for the Simpson musicians. Miss Smith's father was for many years a leading director in western Iowa and left several trunks of music which Miss Smith and her mother allow the Simpson band to use.

Basil Borough is now attending Leland Stanford university according to word received by the registrar's office. His address is 949 Webster avenue, Palo Alto, Calif.

"Simpson Shows the Way" —Earl Hall

We were never more proud of the present generation of students of our own college than when their peace program could elicit from Earl Hall, editor of the Mason City Globe-Gazette, and former commander of the American Legion in Iowa, the editorial which we reprint herewith. Comment hardly seems necessary. Mr. Hall is one of the foremost newspaper men of Iowa, speaks his mind, and takes orders from no clique or faction. Here is what he says of Simpson students:

"Simpson college, on the occasion of the recent 'student strike' against war, held a convocation in its chapel in which the congressional scene incident to the declaration of war in 1917 was re-enacted. Addresses given for and against the steps by the various senators, including Cummins and Kenyon of Iowa, were reproduced by young men and women and in a vote on the question there was a decision against war.

"This appears to us to be the sensible approach to this question—far more effective and commendable than the mock heroics practiced by paraders and demonstrators on other campuses. It bottoms on information and understanding rather than on blind emotion and maudlin sentiment.

"Colleges haven't up to this time done a very admirable job of dealing with the war problem. To a considerable extent they have proceeded from the assumption that wars come solely through the appetite of somebody for blood or the lust of somebody else for money. That's a pathetically inadequate appraisal of the matter.

"The fact is that there are underlying reasons for war—in economics, in international politics, in racial background, in national aspirations, in history—almost as well-defined as the rules of physics. The phenomenon of boiling through the application of heat to water cannot be avoided or conditioned by emotional slogan, pretty though it be.

"That's exactly what the pacifists try to do when they chatter about total and immediate disarmament while war so obviously is still in the heart of man and in the plans of nations. Student strikes against war are a manifestation of that same vacuous reasoning—trying to stop war by incantation instead of by eliminating the causative flame.

"There is need—large need—for more scientific and realistic treatment of this problem. Let it be dissected and analyzed in the same spirit that prevails in the laboratory. Simpson college has shown the way."

"SIMPSONIANA"

The Alumni association requests that old time pictures, books or other reliques of early days of the college be sent to the alumni secretary in the hope that in a short time a special section of the library may be devoted to such "Simpsoniana." The gift of Dr. W. C. Smith makes a splendid beginning and the hope is that others will add additional material.

Miss Marie Albery has written a five scene play, "Young Starr," which was given by the Park Temple players. Miss Albery has been living at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., for the past two years.

Homer Baker, class of 1924, was elected superintendent of the Carlisle schools to succeed Ed Jackson who went to Lovilla. After teaching for several years at Colo he took up the study of law at the University of Colorado and hopes ultimately to take up the legal profession. Harold Fisher, also a Simpson alumnus, is principal of the high school, teacher of mathematics and athletic coach at Carlisle.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dean of Hartford, Conn., came early in October to visit at the home of Rae L. Dean, Simpson college treasurer. Mr. Dean graduated from Simpson in the class of 1901. He was famous as a football player on teams along with the Kennedys, Rogers, Pickens, Graham Reid, and others. He is a civil engineer by profession and has not been in Iowa for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Wilkins of Superior, Wis., spent part of their vacation period with Mrs. Wilkins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Weeks in Indianola, and also visited friends and relatives in Atlantic. Mr. Wilkins teaches science in the Superior high school.

Miss Alice Butler, class of 1924, has accepted appointment as secretary of the Y. W. C. A. at Boise, Idaho. She goes to this position from Harrisburg, Pa., where she was secretary of Girl Reserves. Her sister, Oma, is also working in Boise.

Will H. Reynolds of Fort Myers, Florida, was severely injured early in July in an automobile accident. On account of heavy rain neither Mr. Reynolds nor the driver was able to see and the result was two weeks in a hospital for Mr. Reynolds. Mr. Reynolds had just returned from Mexico City where he was a delegate to the International Rotary convention.

SIMPSON BENEFITS FROM COWLES GIFT

Under the terms of the Gardner Cowles Foundation established by Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Cowles of Des Moines a few months ago, Simpson college is receiving assistance in the form of scholarships for worthy students. The foundation amounting to $500,000 was planned to aid charitable, scientific, literary and educational institutions. The entire principal and income are to be distributed during a period of twenty years.

A portion of the help granted to Simpson students is to be repaid by them and will go into a permanent scholarship fund to bear the name of Gardner Cowles. Mr. Cowles is a member of the board of trustees of Simpson college.

Glenn Wellander of the class of 1935 is recovering from an appendectomy at Iowa Methodist hospital in Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Getty have moved to San Francisco, Calif., where Ralph is manager of a large book store. They are living at 1760 Walnut street, Apt. 203, Berkeley, Calif. Ralph will be remembered as manager of the College Book store during his Simpson days.

Emmons Completes 25 Years at Simpson

At the close of the year 1934-35 Professor C. W. Emmons, head of the department of mathematics and registrar of Simpson college, completed his twenty-fifth year as instructor. He came to Simpson in the fall of 1910. Previous to his arrival at Simpson he had been teaching in the University of Illinois. In 1912 he took over the task of registrar and with the exception of one year has supervised that important department continuously.

With one exception, Professor E. L. Miller, Professor Emmons is now the oldest member of the faculty in point of continuous service.

Miss Christine Smith, granddaughter of the Rev. Dr. William Christie Smith, sailed for France September 21, where she has an exchange fellowship in the schools for a year. Her four uncles and their families were at the pier to bid her goodbye and later were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith of New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith and family have located at Plainfield, N. J. They were all in Indianola this summer visiting at the home of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Smith.

Kenneth Rowley, who attended Simpson college for two years preceding the World war, has been elected superintendent of schools of Clay county with headquarters at Spencer, Iowa.

Bill Hoffman Takes Up Journalism

Word comes to the alumni office that Bill Hoffman of the class of 1934 has become the Coles county correspondent for the Decatur Herald and Review. His headquarters are at Mattoon, a town of 14,000 people, and he also covers Charleston, another city of 8,000. We understand that in his searches through a Mattoon second hand store for something to read, he picked up a copy of the famous "Breeches Bible," buying it at a bargain price. The book was 353 years old and the story of its finding gave Bill some deserved publicity.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Lucas of Winona, Minn., spent two weeks in the Howard Weeks home in Indianola during the summer. Mr. Lucas is employed on a government project near Winona.

James A. (Jim) Howard of the class of 1932, received his degree of Juris Doctor from the University of Iowa at the summer convocation and has entered the practice of law in Shenandoah. Jim will be remembered among other things for his prowess on the football field during his Simpson days. Jim was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Dr. and Mrs. Franklin D. Scott of Superior, Wis., visited with Simpson friends during the summer. Members of the Simpson faculty met with them at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Hilmer. Dr. Scott, former member of the Simpson faculty, will teach at Northwestern university next year.

Willard Archie, former Simpson student, has purchased a controlling interest in the Evening Sentinel at Shenandoah. He was formerly with the Corning Free Press and later with the Iowa highway commission.

Walter Townsend, principal of the junior high school in Indianola, and J. C. Hickman, principal of the senior high school, both spent their summers at the University of Colorado working toward their master's degrees.

Stuart Shaw On Museum Staff

Stuart Shaw, who graduated from Simpson in the class of 1921, is now a member of the staff of the Metropolitan museum in New York City. He is engaged as lecturer on Roman and Greek art and antiquities in one of the most famous museums of the world.

After leaving Simpson Mr. Shaw graduated from the school of architecture of Columbia university. Here he won a travelling scholarship and spent some years studying and travelling over Europe. Among the interesting details which Mr. Shaw tells of museum life is that public demand will sometimes require a painting to be hung on the walls of even the Metropolitan museum when its artistic qualifications would not warrant such appearance. He mentioned two in particular, "The Horse Fair," by Rosa Bonheur, and "Washington Crossing the Delaware."

1935 FOOTBALL GETS UNDER WAY

Team is Light But Fast and Shows Fighting Spirit

Graduating nine or ten men off the first string squad will wreck anybody's ball game. If you don't believe it, ask Coach Casey and his assistant, "Ade" Carlson, as they are working to rebuild the Simpson football team this year. Graduation last June took two ends, a tackle, two guards, center and two backs and left only six lettermen with which to start the new year. The return of John French, John McFarland and Allen Baker brought some relief from the tension of the opening days. This has been offset by the injury to Chet Wallace which occurred before the first game and will probably keep him out of the games until the middle of October. Chet is not only captain but was counted on to take the heavy end of the passing game this year.

The team roster shows the lettermen and upperclassmen and also the new men on what is in many ways one of the most promising squads Simpson has had for many years. The veterans have showed up well in the opening games and the new men are fighting hard to demonstrate their right to a place on the first string. Sharples and Glen Anderson at ends, French and Spicer at tackles, Moon at guard, McFarland and Owens in the backfield are going to be hard to displace. French was shifted from end to tackle in order to give some additional weight in that spot in the line and when he has become adjusted to the new position can be counted on for steady, hard playing. Sharples, who is playing his second year, should be one of the best ends in the conference. McFarland has been working at quarterback. The whole team is light but will be fast and shifty.

"Ade" Carlson Assistant Coach

In the Buena Vista game they were outweighed and also faced a veteran team. Simpson lost this game because of a bad fumble and a lucky pass.

In the Drake game, very much to everybody's surprise, they played the Drake team to a standstill during the first half although outweighed twenty pounds to a man. In the second half the weight of the Drake team began to tell and Casey was compelled to make a good many substitutions.

At the time this is written the team has one more hard game on the schedule before continuing the conference season. That game is with the Kirkville Teachers who have been unbeaten for more than two years. By the time we get back to the conference games the Simpson team will be in a position to give a good account of themselves. Keep your eyes on Casey and Carlson and the Simpson squad.

Joe Meek Addresses Illinois Business Men

Joseph T. Meek, Simpson graduate in the class of 1924, and the present editor of the Illinois Journal of Commerce, received much favorable comment for an address delivered before the Retail Merchants of Paris, Ill., on May 1.

Joe was an outstanding member of the Simpson football team and was named a tackle on the mythical all-state team during his days as a Simpson student. He has been associated with the Illinois Chamber of Commerce as editor and director of merchandising for some time and is a writer of no mean ability.

Avery Craven Visits Old Home Town

Dr. and Mrs. Avery Craven and daughter Jean of Chicago visited relatives in Indianola for a brief period during the summer. Dr. Craven is professor of American history in the University of Chicago which chair he has held since 1929. He is author of many books and is demanded as a lecturer.

Dr. Craven graduated from Simpson in 1908. He received a master's degree from Harvard in 1914 and was granted his doctor of philosophy degree from the University of Chicago in 1923. He then taught in the college of Emporia, Kans., Michigan State college and the University of Illinois before returning to Chicago in 1928.

Dr. Craven will lecture before the war college in Washington, D. C., next January and will then spend some time in Scripps women's college in California before returning to his post at Chicago.

Dr. Craven's bold criticism of present social organization and ideals has caused a good deal of comment. We quote briefly from his address on "Social Intelligence":

"Pious men have confused their own opinions and interests with those of God and the ages, while darkness has covered the face of the earth.

"Liberty and Equality . . . are the bitterest of enemies, but, under unique American development, until of late, they have dwelt so harmoniously together that few have discerned their inherent antagonism . . . if men are free they will not remain equal, and if they are kept equal, it will be at the expense of their freedom. We are painfully learning that the great purpose of a democratic society are not so simple when maturity comes.

"I have performed only half my mission when I recount the wonders of human building and urged the clearing of the air so that intelligence may save us from rule. It is not enough to be wise. It is necessary that we be good . . . whether we like it or not, a better world begins within the human heart."

Joshua Club Restored

A fine spirit of enthusiasm is evident among the students this year in support of the Simpson football team. The most significant evidence is the resurrection of the old Joshua club which started about 1912 under the direction of Mark Tennant, Dee Mallonee and other campus leaders of those days. The choice of the student body for president of the club is Fred McElroy.

Already the student council under the leadership of Lowell Richardson, has secured Fred McElroy as cheer leader with Harris Stafford, James Osborn, Roland Parcel and Jack Johnson as assistants. Special sweaters have been secured for the leaders and the chapel periods will be given over to some real pep meetings so that by the time of the first home games the groups should be ready to give some real demonstrations of college pep.

The theme song of the Joshua club will probably be "Joshua fit the battle of Jericho and the walls came tumbling down," probably paraphrased to fit the campus conditions.

Each week a chapel sing is held under the direction of Professor Spring and the student body will know all the Simpson songs before the end of the semester, at least that is the hope of those who are in charge of these pep meetings. So before you alumni come back for homecoming refresh your memories with the college songs so you will be ready to enter into the spirit.

Clarence Hoxel, class of 1909, of San Diego, Calif., was called to Indianola this summer on account of the illness of his father.

Tom Clarke Hurt In Auto Wreck

Tom Clarke, graduate in the class of 1935, was seriously injured recently in a car accident on West Grand avenue in Des Moines. He spent some time in the Methodist hospital and then was transferred to Ogle hotel in Indianola where he is recovering slowly. He left a few days ago by plane for his eastern home.

Tom was an outstanding football and baseball player at Simpson and has been working for the Bankers Life Insurance company since his graduation. He was planning to go east for a visit with his folks when the accident interfered with his plans.

Pryor Heads Iowa Relief Administration

J. Carl Pryor of the class of 1907 has been appointed relief administrator for Iowa. He succeeded E. H. Mulock, taking his post late in June.

Following his graduation from Simpson, Pryor completed a course in law and entered employment for the Burlington railroad. For a number of years he has had his headquarters in the city of Burlington. He has been prominent in democratic circles in the state of Iowa for many years.

PETER ROSS HONORED BY THE ZENITH BOARD

Every Simpson student since 1912 will appreciate the recognition given to Peter Ross, caretaker of the gymnasium, by the board of the 1936 Zenith. Mr. Hopper, donor of the Simpson gymnasium, found Mr. Ross working as janitor in the Y. M. C. A. at Chicago. Since that time he has given untiringly of his service in the care of the building and the students who use it. He probably knows more individual students and knows them more intimately than any member of the Simpson faculty. His memory for faces and names is almost uncanny. Seldom do the returning grads ever catch Peter hesitating to name them correctly.

Peter's services as an entertainer and reader of Scotch poetry, his kiltie costume and his interpretation of "Roamin' Through the Gloamin'" and other of Harry Lauder's famous songs has become almost a tradition on the campus.

Lake Ahquabi Nearly Complete

About four miles south and west of Indianola the CCC boys located at Camp Allerton are putting the finishing touches on Lake Ahquabi. The beautiful shelter house and bath houses are being completed on the southeast shore of the lake, which will be under the care of the state conservation commission, and if present indications of interest are continued, it will be a popular gathering place for people in central Iowa. The buildings are of native stone, the equipment in rough hand-hewn timber and altogether it will be an attractive place.

The Indian name "Ahquabi" was selected by a committee under the direction of the Indianola Record and Tribune.

Howard Miller Is Transferred West

Howard Miller who graduated from Simpson in the class of 1928 has been transferred by the government forestry department to Ogden, Utah, where he will be assistant regional chief in forestry work.

Mr. Miller is the son of Professor and Mrs. E. L. Miller and after completing his work at Simpson graduated from the forestry department at Yale. During recent months he has been shifted about from one portion of the country to another but the Ogden assignment will be more permanent. Mrs. Miller and the two children have joined Howard in Ogden.

Clarke Shaw, former Simpson student, has gone to work at Spencer in one of a series of stores located in cities in northern Iowa. Clarke had been employed in the county relief office in Indianola for some months.

SIMPSON ALUMNI GET FELLOWSHIPS

Carl Brewer has resigned his position as advertising manager of the Spencer News-Herald and has entered Iowa State college at Ames where he will take graduate work with bacteriology as his major. Mr. Brewer, who graduated at Simpson in 1934, has been granted a fellowship along with Wilbur Wiggert, also an alumnus of Simpson. The two boys were assistants in the department of biology at Simpson of which Professor Hiram S. Doty is head.

Ralph Goodwin, who was president of the student council at Simpson last year, has also been granted a fellowship and will take a graduate course in physics. He will serve as assistant instructor in the physics department. He was an outstanding athlete at Simpson besides being a top student. All three boys made good scholastic records at Simpson.

Howard Evans of Adel, class of 1931, was granted the degree of Doctor of Medicine at the State University of Iowa at the 1935 commencement. Howard was a member of the Kappa fraternity at Simpson. He is serving an internship at the Lutheran hospital in Des Moines.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Jackson have moved from Carlisle to Lovilla, where Mr. Jackson will serve as superintendent of schools for next year. He was superintendent of the Carlisle schools for nine years and also active in community affairs.
